Home and Workplace Office Ergonomic Assessments

Organisations now require solutions for injury prevention for their homebased workforce. With many people now working from home, the Physioworks Health Group Home and Workplace Office Ergonomic Assessments (HOEA) offers a solution - either online, over the phone or in person.

Tailored for each unique home & workplace arrangement, and focused on the individual role of each team member, the HOEA ensures an appropriate & safe environment to enable your team to work productively, wherever they are. Industry leading Specialist Musculoskeletal Physiotherapist* Andrew Dalwood (FACP) leads the Physioworks Health Group team. The team is highly experienced & qualified in occupational & workplace physiotherapy, ensuring optimal outcomes for your workforce.

As awarded by the Australian College of Physiotherapy in 2009.*

How do we support your team?

- Either by phone, online (SYKPE/ZOOM consult) or in person (if required).
 - No set up required by your team member.
- We listen: What's your role? Your tasks? Your current arrangement? Health issues?
- We advise: On Home or Workplace Office equipment, set up & tasks.
- We discuss & assess: All unique Home or Workplace Office risk factors with all stakeholders.

What's included for each team member?

- Completion of a Home or Workplace Office assessment checklist.
- Discussion of any unique roles & tasks to determine tailored solutions.
- Advice & education on workstation & desk.
- Communication of outcomes to the employer.
- Review of findings – detailing any equipment requirements.
- Face to face home/office visits (if required) to ensure everyone in our local communities, including those with unique requirements, are supported to work safely.

What is your investment to keep your employees safe & comfortable while working at home?

- Online Assessment = $160.00 one off fee (+GST).
- Complete site visit, report & travel = $250.00/ hour (+GST).
